About the workshop

Digital documentation

- Using your digital photos to their full potential - creating exciting documentation and resources in line with the EYLF
- Discover how easy it can be to use your digital camera and computer for documentation
- EYLF Based training
- The resources Digital Documentation and Sharing the Journey will be the focus for the day, see how each works, what information to add to create a learning story and how to add this information along with photos and how to use audio recordings to capture the reflections of the children.

About Kim

Kim Walters has worked as an early childhood educator for over 25 years. In 1999, Kim started using a digital camera in her room to capture the essence of children at work. Kim established her consultancy and publication business Digital Preschool in 2004. Kim travels throughout Australia and New Zealand educating early childhood professionals of the ease of using digital media to enhance learning and communication. During 2006 Kim participated in a USA led Study Tour of Reggio Emilia Early Childhood Centres in Italy.
